The PMA West Michigan District is hosting its 13th Annual CEO Executive Roundtable. For more than a dozen years, this annual event brings together company and industry leaders in our industry for a day of networking, idea sharing, discussions and brainstorming on the most pressing issues.

This year, Omar Nashashibi, founding partner, The Franklin Partnership, will give the keynote presentation. Nashashibi will discuss the ever-changing political landscape and the potential impact on the metalforming industry. Nashashibi works with PMA and member companies on legislative issues and strategies that are important to our industry. His session will be interactive and will allow for dialogue and discussion.

After Nashashibi's presentation, West Michigan District officers will facilitate a roundtable discussion. The roundtable allows attendees the perfect opportunity to discuss and brainstorm topics such as organizational structure growing pains, technology advancements, workforce training, and other important industry topics. Please come with ideas and topics to share with the group.

Benefits of attending:

- Exchanging views, experiences and ideas with peer industry leaders
- Discussions on key business conditions and environments surrounding the metalforming industry that can impact your company
